Ambitious businesses choose Freeman Clarke. Here's why:

- + We are a unique team of executive-level IT leaders.
- + Our Principals are more than interims, consultants or freelancers. We work with our clients to provide lasting benefits.
- + We work on a part-time (fractional) basis with no contractual lock in, so we have to deliver value from day one.
- + We have no commercial relationships with suppliers, so our recommendations are unbiased.
- + We are regionally focused and we work exclusively with mid-market organisations.

What clients have said...

We recognised that we needed an experienced IT Director to provide continuity and strategic thinking to address our IT issues so retained one of Freeman Clarke's Principals. Iain Armstrong has been a great success and feels like a member of the senior team here!

*Alltruck, Managing Director,
Paul Robison*

By establishing and delivering a clear and market-leading IT strategy our business became recognised as a recruitment technology firm. Kev Cooper has been everything and more that we hoped for when making this appointment and I cannot recommend Freeman Clarke highly enough.

*Amberjack, Chief Executive
Cynthia Bostock*

Within days Darlene Schroeder joined us as our Chief Information Officer (CIO). Darlene immediately took ownership of our entire IT landscape, getting to grips with our processes and suppliers, taking charge of our major technology change project and steering our IT teams in the UK and USA forwards.

*Bonhill, COO
James Robson*
