

Improving the food manufacturing journey, from field to fork

Columbus helps businesses to digitally transform and improve the value realization of their business applications. We do this through targeted solution sets built on the Microsoft Dynamics platform.

What is Columbus Food?

Columbus Food is designed to streamline the supply chain while cutting costs. It increases process efficiency, improves accuracy and visibility of data, enhances product safety and maximizes margins. With our industry know how, we have helped food manufacturers like Weetabix make significant improvements to their businesses.

Why customers use Columbus Food

- End to end traceability, from field to fork
- Maximize production efficiency and reduce downtime
- To improve margins in key growth areas
- Improved times to market with new product developments.
- Managing rising labour costs
- Ensures supply chain visibility

Improved traceability

- Enables tracking of shelf lives and expiration dates
- Promotes accurate and real time information
- Enhanced visibility across the supply chain

'Columbus Food helps us to work faster'

Simplified compliance

- Enhanced role-based security
- Improved audit trails and system controls
- Improved disaster recovery infrastructure

'It's the cornerstone of compliance and quality efforts'

Competitive advantage

- Improved financial reporting
- Improved sales forecasting
- Enhanced reporting, analytics and BI

'Our service delivery levels are at 99.96%'

"Columbus Food enables us to make decisions based on up-to-date analysis and helps us to streamline our current business processes and provides the flexibility necessary for our future development."

- Thwaites, independent family brewer

Columbus Food, deployed on the Microsoft platform, allows customers to take advantage of improved visibility and data

Improved access to key information

- 'We can collect accurate information in real time'
- Reduced costs of delivery by 38%
- Reduced costs in production and logistics

Business growth

- 'We now work faster & get more orders out the door'
- 400% growth after implementation for UK customer
- Increased productivity & improved cross-division communication

Saves time through less manual tasks

- 'It has undoubtedly made us more profitable'
- 50% reduction in month end process time
- Improved customer relationships

Columbus Food

Our promise to you

We will challenge your traditional way of thinking by using technology to meet your business goals.

The Columbus Food experts

No one knows how to improve your food manufacturing journey better than our experts.

With over 8,000 implementations behind them, they have the industry knowledge to ensure you see success.

Speak with the experts today.

And learn how you can follow businesses like Weetabix and Dominos into food manufacturing success.

Columbus Food

Microsoft Dynamics 365

Microsoft Digital Platform

12 Key features to look out for

| A 360 degree view of customer | Inventory Insights | Demand Planning & Forecasting | Integrated Warehousing |
|-------------------------------|--------------------|-------------------------------|------------------------|
| Customer Preferences | Accurate data | Visibility | Allergen Management |
| Contract & Rebate Management | Reporting | Lot Management | Quality Control |

Why Columbus?

Columbus are widely recognised as a global leader in maximising efficiency and business performance. We develop and implement our offerings using innovative platforms to accelerate digital adoption and ROI. We have a deep engagement in food, manufacturing and retail, and we build targeted industry specific solutions on top of the Microsoft Dynamics platform, transforming your business and harnessing technology as a competitive advantage.